

Announcing Detroit's "Flower House", Lisa Waud, owner of Pot and Box will be speaking in lieu of Trish Hubbell, "Greening of Detroit." Lisa will be speaking on Wednesday, June 7, 2017 at the luncheon at noon.

Lisa, Detroit-based floral designer and owner of pot & box, assembled a team of designers from across the country to transform an abandoned duplex on the I-75 service drive into a large-scale floral installation.

Flower House attracted more than 3,400 visitors and media from across the world for three days in October, 2015. Lisa will share her story in photos which can serve as an inspiration for all gardeners and floral designers for "dreaming big" in their communities.
